

OUR TOWN

"The Lion and the Lamb lie down together" when political sympathies run concurrent. From the issue of The Herald October 16, 1924 we take the following which was written for this paper by the chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee. This bit of good Democratic doctrine was penciled in long hand on a piece of white paper: "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."—Democratic Primary Pledge. The statement concludes: "The supreme court of Texas has construed the foregoing pledge to be a moral obligation. To a man of conscience and right thinking a moral obligation is just as binding as a legal obligation. Has the time come in Texas when we shall disregard all obligations which are not enforced by the penalties of the law?" Now, we ask the Democrats of Milam County who stood by that pledge to look around and see who supported Butte against the nominee and compare that support with the vote now going to Dan Moody.

Take away from Dan Moody the vote and support of those who bolted the ticket and it would be a horse race between the boy from Williamson county and Jim.

We ask in all fairness should a pledge in 1924 be more sacred than in 1926? What is the attitude of the Democratic executive committee now as compared with its attitude in 1924? Read a statement elsewhere published in this issue that was written and printed in behalf of the party when Mrs. Ferguson was the nominee in October 1924. This statement was signed by the Democratic Executive Committee. In that same issue of the Herald which was then regarded as the "great Democratic paper" we find this paragraph which is taken from an account of the meeting held by the committee to outline plans to defeat the Republican candidate.

"A number of committeemen made speeches urging the Democrats to keep their pledge and support the nominees. The committee passed a resolution expressing the view that all who do not support the nominees should not be permitted to vote in the primaries two years hence."

WHIT DAVIDSON HERE FOR ADDRESS FRIDAY

SPEAKS FOR LYNCH DAVIDSON ON COURT HOUSE LAWN AT 8:30 P. M.

Whit Davidson, candidate for governor in 1924, will speak on the court house lawn Friday night July 9 at 8:30 o'clock, for the candidacy of Lynch Davidson for governor.

Mr. Davidson as a candidate for governor in 1924 received more than 1500 votes in Milam County. He has many strong friends here, including T. S. Henderson, W. G. Gillis and others who managed his campaign for him.

Paul Webb in charge of the arrangements for the meeting here expects a big crowd to hear the former lieutenant governor.

No candidate for governor has yet spoken in Cameron but all have made speeches at Rockdale. The speaking Friday night will be the first made here in the interest of a candidate for governor since the address of W. A. Morrison for Mrs. Ferguson.

R. H. MCINTOSH GETS IN AUTO WRECK ON WAY TO WACO FOR VACATION TRIP

R. H. McIntosh on his way Monday to Waco to take the train for his ranch in New Mexico had his Ford sedan wrecked when another car ran into him.

Mr. McIntosh came back to Cameron but was undaunted and has gone again. He will be on his cow ranch in New Mexico for about ten days. This ranch is owned by Mr. McIntosh and his brother and contains about 25,000 acres and is being stocked with cattle. The cattle business has been at a low ebb for a long time but hopes are entertained that the industry will revive.

FARMERS HEAR LYNCH IN ROCKDALE SPEECH

TO CALL STATE-WIDE CONFERENCE OF FARMERS, IF HE IS ELECTED, PLEDGE

Rockdale, Tex., July 6.—Declaring one of the pressing needs in Texas at this time is a system of financing farm products so that they will be fed to the markets as the markets will take them, and thereby insure the farmer a fair margin of profit above what it cost him to produce his cotton and other crops, Lynch Davidson, speaking here tonight at a big Milam county rally, pledged himself when nominated for governor, to call a state-wide conference of business men and farmers to discuss plans for financing and marketing the 1926 cotton crop.

Davidson declared every indication is that Texas would produce one of the largest crops ever grown and that "on the face of the prospects alone, the market price of cotton has begun to decline." He said that as soon as the crop was on the market for sale the speculators and middle men would manipulate the price and every farmer who is pressed for money to take what is offered him instead of what the staple is worth on the basis of supply and demand.

"It costs about the same each year to raise an acre of cotton," the speaker said. "Yet the selling price is known to drop from 40 cents at the beginning of a season to as low as 11 cents. It is an unusual year when cotton prices do not fluctuate as much as 25 per cent over the marketing period. Such a shrinkage in profits is ruinous to any business. When cotton sells at less than the production cost, every bale so disposed of is a liability to the whole state of Texas. Similar marketing conditions hold with practically every crop raised in this state."

"After I am nominated in the primary, I propose to use the influence of that nomination to call immediately a state-wide conference of representative farmers and business men to discuss plans for financing the marketing of cotton and other staple crops. Plans that will permit of feeding out the staple to the market as the market needs it and at the owners' price, not the buyers' price."

Lynch Davidson was in Cameron Tuesday morning prior to his address in Rockdale at night. In company with city attorney Paul Webb, who introduced the candidate, the Houston man met a large number of his friends here.

Davidson feels satisfied about the results of the coming primary election, expressing the belief as he has indicated in his addresses that Moody is defeated and no one can beat Ferguson but himself.

John E. Cook of the Rockdale Reporter presided at the meeting in Rockdale.

FERGUSON FORCES PLAN BIG RALLY JULY 23

TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN ON COURT HOUSE LAWN ON EVE OF ELECTION

Ferguson forces will close the campaign in Milam County with a big rally on the court house lawn here Friday night, July 23 with T. H. McGregor as the speaker or some other well known Texan.

Plans were made Tuesday at a meeting of the executive committee for Ferguson.

An invitation has been addressed to Mr. McGregor asking him to make the address.

No word has been received from former United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey who was called out of the state last week but who has returned to take up his speaking tour. In a wire to W. A. Morrison Mr. Bailey says he will try to make Cameron one of the places he will speak.

THOUSANDS HERE FOR LEGION CELEBRATION

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM IS BEST IN HISTORY OF LOCAL POST SERVICE MEN SAY

With thousands of people in the city and entertainment for all the two day celebration under the auspices of the American Legion in Cameron on July 2 and 3 is declared by ex-service men to have been the greatest celebration in the history of the local post.

The celebration began Friday with the Rodeo at 4 p. m. and at night with a street dance and rodeo. Mack M. Akers made the rodeo a success and has the thanks of the local post. The crowds attending the rodeo were unusually large both day and night.

Friday afternoon a ball game between Rockdale and Cameron was attended by a large crowd. A ball game Saturday between Cameron and Rosebud in which Cameron won 1 to 0 was witnessed by a small crowd. On Saturday afternoon the largest crowd attending the rodeo during the two days came to the field.

At the big street dance thousands gathered both nights. The music was furnished by the Pioneer Concert band with J. T. Parma as director. The dance was a success in every way.

The old fiddlers contest in which state championship was declared and more than $200 in cash prizes awarded brought to Cameron one of the largest gatherings of old time fiddlers ever seen in this section of the state. The finals in the contest were held Saturday night and Uncle Mike James of Houston was declared winner.

Tom Choate of Buckholts, champion fiddler of Milam County, won second place in the contest. The other winners are as follows: E. B. Bridges of Bartlett, third prize; E. R. Webb of Cause, fourth prize; Wm. McLeod of San Marcos, fifth prize.

The celebration was widely advertised over the state and many thousands of people came during the two days.

JIM MANN NOT FOR FERGUSON

The Herald has been asked to make a correction in the list of names submitted for publication as the executive committee for the Ferguson club. Jim Mann of Yarrington says he is not for Ferguson but is voting for Lynch Davidson for governor. The name Mr. Mann has been taken off the Ferguson club list.

The Herald gladly makes this correction for Mr. Mann who is supporting Lynch Davidson for governor.

BIG CROWDS EXPECTED AT GYMNASIUM EXERCISES

BOHEMIAN LODGE TO PRESENT PROGRAM SUNDAY JULY 18

The Sokols will give an exhibition in Buckholts on Sunday July 18 and will be joined by the S. P. J. S. T. lodge.

The program will consist of gymnastic exercises by the Buckholts and Seaton societies of the Sokols.

The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises and enjoy the afternoon. This will be the second exhibition of the young gymnastics according to John Stata, president of the Buckholts Sokols who was in Cameron Monday to announce the program.

The Sokols are doing great work for the young people in gymnastics. Prof. Joza Havranek will be in Buckholts to put on the program. There will be speaking in the afternoon.

The celebration committee has announced the following program:

- 1 p. m., Concert, Temple Jos. Sebstik band continuing until 2 p. m.
 - 2 p. m., Address, W. G. Gillis.
 - 3 p. m. to 6 p. m., 1. Boys Exercises. 2. Girls Exercises. 3. Men's Competitive Exercises. 4. Ladies Competitive Exercises. 5. Men's Exercises with bars. 6. Ladies Exercises on level board. 7. Men's trapeze exercises. 8. Boy's and Girl's special exercises. 9 p. m. to 9:30 p. m., supper.
 9. Address by Prof. Joza Havranek.
 - 9 p. m. to 12 p. m., dance.
- Music for exercises and dance by Jos Sebstik band of Temple.

T. O. WALTON SPEAKS AT LEGION MEETING AND CELEBRATION

Hon. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. College, spoke to a large crowd on the court house lawn here Saturday. He was introduced by T. S. Henderson, Sr.

The speaking arrangements were in charge of A. F. Mitchell and Mr. Walton told the farmers about methods being used to kill the cotton fleas.

Several hundred people were on the court house lawn for the speaking, mostly farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Law motored from Houston Saturday. Mr. Law returned to his work Tuesday while Mrs. Law will remain with her aunt, Mrs. George A. Thomas for a visit of some duration.

CHEVROLET COMPANY IN NEW BUILDING LOCATION

NEW BUILDINGS GIVE BETTER FACILITIES FOR HANDLING BUSINESS

The Cameron Chevrolet Company has moved to the new location in the Hefley building on the corner property formerly occupied by the photograph gallery. This building is one of the largest motor sales buildings in Texas.

Joe Middleton, Manager of the Cameron Chevrolet Motor Company, local Chevrolet dealer, reports the largest number of orders for early delivery in the history of their company.

"There is every indication that the coming months will show a greater number of Chevrolet cars put into commission on the streets of this city than ever before in the history of our company," said Mr. Middleton.

"It is our desire to give improved service for the improved Chevrolet and with that in mind we have had our service station completely rearranged and remodeled by experts from Chevrolet Motor Company's Service Promotion Department.

"One innovation we have installed is a work room specially devoted to the overhauling of motors and axles. A large tool board is placed at one side of the room where all special tools used in this work are kept in order. This eliminates time lost in looking for tools.

"Axle stands, motor stands, and cleaning tanks are so arranged that the work is permitted to progress without lost motion and without interfering with the other operations. More and better work will result with the same number of mechanics. The Service Promotion Department of the Chevrolet Motor Company, after a very careful study of the problems of the service station has reduced this matter to a science and we are very glad to be able through its co-operation to install this system so that we can give our customers the kind of service to which they are entitled.

"We are extending to all our friends an invitation to inspect our shop at their convenience for we are very proud of it and would like to have the privilege of showing them what a hundred per cent service station looks like."

NEW STORE GOING UP

The new store of W. S. Lamkin across the river near the new bridge is going up rapidly under the contract of J. F. Brown.

This building will be of brick construction and very pretty in design, having a drive in filling station and will handle a general line of groceries. The store will also supply the big farm population of Mr. Lamkin.

CHEEVES BROTHERS PUT ON BIG SUMMER SALE

SEASONABLE GOODS GOES OUT IN GREAT BARGAIN SWEEP HERE

Cheeves Brothers this week are advertising a great summer sale in which thousands of dollars in merchandise is to go on the market at greatly reduced prices.

So many are the items on sale for one dollar that the big ad and circular has the appearance of a dollar day event.

This sale is now open and will continue for some time. This store has the confidence of the people and when a sale is advertised the store impresses the fact that there is nothing sensational to bring in the people but a real feast of bargains backed up by merchandise that has stood the test of quality for years.

It will be of interest to everyone to read this big ad in this issue of the Herald.

MOODY GETS BIG CROWD IN SPEECH AT ROCKDALE

ATTORNEY GENERAL BRINGS CAMPAIGN TO MILAM COUNTY IN NIGHT ADDRESS

Dan Moody, candidate for governor, spoke to a crowd variously estimated from 4,000 to 12,000 people in Fair Park at Rockdale on Monday night. E. A. Camp was chairman of the meeting. He introduced Joe Cummings a tenant farmer who introduced Mr. Moody.

O. L. Kidd, Cameron attorney, made speech praising Moody and in return presented J. W. Garner who also made an address praising the young attorney general.

The address of Mr. Moody was delayed by the ceremonies until about nine o'clock. He spoke about one hour and forty-five minutes.

The caravan of automobiles advertised to start from the court house at Cameron did not materialize, those who attended going to the meeting at will. The Cameron band did not lead the procession and there was no parade.

The Moody supporters are well pleased with the reception given their candidate.

Rockdale, Texas, July 5.—Honesty and economy in the expenditure of the public funds offer the only hope for the reduction of taxes, Dan Moody attorney general and candidate for governor, declared in a speech here tonight.

"Deficiency warrants issued up to January 1, 1926," said Moody, "amounted to $3,226,000, which added to a deficiency appropriation of about $1,000,000, makes the public debt chargeable against the general revenue of the state over $4,200,000. Jim Ferguson says this debt has been paid but that is a mere subterfuge. It has been paid out of the general revenue for the current year and at the end of the year there will be a larger deficiency than ever. Jim has only used 1925 taxes to pay 1925 expenses. It's like a man who lives in June on his July salary."

Moody pointed out that appropriations for the current year were $2,000,000 in excess of current revenue and declared that to continue a policy like that means to increase the public debt and to increase taxes, which are now at the constitutional limit.

"I am opposed to any increase of taxes," Moody declared. "The complaint of the people against high taxes is just. But I am not pretending that there is any miraculous way in which taxes ultimately can be reduced and that is for the state to live sufficiently within its income to pay its public debt. After this is done taxes may be reduced and not before."

"The great need in Texas at this time is to eliminate the wasteful extravagance and misuse of the public revenue which has marked the present administration. This will require honesty in the letting of public contracts, and the elimination of unnecessary employs on the public payroll."

Moody illustrated this point by citing a case in which two men worked for a road contractor in maintaining a highway at $90 a month each, and the state hired two men at $124 a month to inspect their work.

"That economics can be practiced," he said, "is shown by the experiences of the attorney's general department. The legislature appropriated $90,000 for the support of that department during the fiscal year ending September 1, 1925, and more than 20 per cent of it was returned to the treasury of the state. And unless there is some unforeseen expenditure between now and the end of the present fiscal year, a like amount of the appropriation will be saved for this year, too."

There was applause when Moody added that these economies had in no way impaired the efficiency of the attorney general's department.

Mr. and Mrs. Session of Houston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kidd.

CAMERON LIONS CLUB FOR MOODY IN VOTING TUESDAY; DAVIDSON GETS 6 VOTES AND FERGUSON GETS NONE

The Lions Club at Cameron is behind the candidacy of Dan Moody for governor although Lynch Davidson shares in the support of Lions, if the vote as taken Tuesday indicates the attitude of that organization.

Mrs. Ferguson received no votes and not having any friends among the Lions, the majority of whom supported Felix Robertson in 1924, the chair appointed a member to introduce her.

The entertainment was arranged by Moulton Cobb and others in the absence of a regular program.

A vote was taken on Moody and Davidson. The attorney general received 12 votes of those present and Davidson received 6 votes.

It is evident that the vote on the governor's race is contrary to the policies of Lionism but is being used by Moody supporters as a publicity stunt for their candidate to impress the public that "strong civic organizations" are backing Moody.

We clip the following from the Dallas News:

"Cameron, Texas, July 6.—Lacking in a regular program, the Cameron Lions' Club Tuesday decided to have nominating speeches for governor for entertainment. Paul Webb, City attorney, made the nominating speech for Davidson; Moulton (Ty) Cobb, editor of the Cameron Enterprise, spoke for Dan Moody, and J. C. Martin, local business man, was appointed by the chair to nominate Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, there being no Ferguson supporters in the club."

point presented a problem. Several minor collisions were reported.

In referring to the road bonds, Mr. Ferguson said: "The bonds were issued and sold in good faith. This administration is not in favor of repudiation, but it is the only one which has pointed the way to prevent repudiation." The governor wants to use the power of her office to get your money back. She believes in the democratic principle of going back to the people in each district. This is the only way to validate the bonds," Ferguson said.

Local friends of the Fergusons who attended the speaking at LaGrange said that the crowd was larger than that which greeted the Fergusons at Sulphur Springs, when thousands were unable to get within hearing distance of the platform. More than 5,000 automobiles were counted in LaGrange, it was said, and this did not include all the vehicles that had brought visitors to the speaking, estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000.

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF STATE HEARS FORMER GOVERNOR PLAY KU KLUX

The largest crowd ever assembled in the history of Texas to hear a private citizen talk, heard James E. Ferguson at La Grange Monday.

LaGrange, Texas, July 6.—James E. Ferguson denied that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson favors repudiation of $150,000,000 in Texas district road bonds held invalid by a decision of the U. S. Supreme court in an address here Monday.

He declared the governor has displayed a confidence in the honesty of the people of Texas not shown by either candidates because she favors referring back to a vote in each district the bonds issued there and since held to be invalid.

The speaker continued to center his attack on Dan Moody characterizing the "Moody Crowd" as "witch burning reformers." He defended the various administrative acts of his wife.

Ferguson was to speak in Brenham Tuesday.

Ferguson praised the farmers, defended governor Ferguson's administration and assailed the Ku Klux Klan. There was no heckling.

Father Paul Kasper called the meeting to order and introduced Judge George Willrich, who presented the speaker. Nineteen priests, two bishops and numerous delegates of the Bohemian Alliance league were in the audience.

MILAM COUNTY COTTON INFESTED WITH FLEAS

County Agent Banzhaf Advises Poisoning to Control Cotton Flea or "Hopper"—Suggests Sulphur

County Agent Geo. Banzhaf writes the Reporter that the prevalence over the county of the "cotton flea" is causing some concern, and suggests that the farmers who are bothered use Flower of Sulphur to poison this pest. He appends an article written by W. D. Hunter, of the bureau of Entomology, U. S. Department of Agriculture, with the hope that the farmers may find the suggestions therein contained useful.

The article:

The So-Called Cotton Flea

In the last few years a new form of injury to cotton has appeared. It occurs in the coast counties of Texas but during the last two years it appeared in various localities in the state as far north as the Red River. What appears to be the same disorder appeared in the Eastern states during the past season.

The trouble is manifested by the shedding of the very small squares and great changes in the growth of the plants. They become abnormally tall.

The disorder is a very abnormal one. It has caused more loss of cotton in some of the coast counties during the past two years than the boll weevil. Numerous fields have been observed in which there was an average of not more than one boll to the plant. Of course this amounted to practically complete destruction of the crop.

The actual damage done to the cotton plant soon seems to be not altogether from the punctures made by the insects but by their injecting a virus of some kind. Plants from which all squares are removed as soon as they formed showed some abnormalities in growth but not the suppression of branches and other characteristics accompanying the disorder.

Out of a long list of substances tried it was found that ordinary commercial flowers of sulphur (more commonly called Sublimed Flowers of Sulphur—W. D. H.) is by far the most effective. This is fortunate since sulphur is available in large quantities and is cheap and easily applied. Even in large quantities it has no injurious effect on the cotton plant.

The cotton hopper first appears in the spring on the roadside weed known as horseweed. This plant is probably the source of the virus. In South Texas about the end of April, under normal conditions, the hoppers migrate to cotton where they remain into the month of July, when they migrate to the goat weed.

The means of control suggested by these experiments and observations is the use of flowers of sulphur on the cotton about the end of April or when observations show that the hoppers are beginning to appear on the cotton plants. Applications of sulphur in a dust form at the rate of five or six pounds per acre at weekly intervals through May and June should give satisfactory protection to cotton. In the absence of rains less frequent applications may be given.

These suggestions are made at this time on account of the urgent demand for information regarding the results of investigation. It should be understood that the work has been carried through only one season and that the details as to application have not been worked out. It will be necessary for every farmer who may apply sulphur to use his judgment as to the details, but it is hoped that during the coming season the best procedure will be determined.

WHO'S MAN IS DAN ?

(A communication addressed to the Democrats by the Executive Committee on October 16, 1924 showing a zeal for party loyalty.)

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF MILAM COUNTY

Milam County Democratic Executive Committee urges every loyal Democrat in this county to go to the polls on November 4th and vote the Democratic Ticket for National, State and local officers.

This government is a government by parties and party loyalty is essential to party success.

At the beginning of each campaign voters have the unquestioned right to determine whether they are Democrats or Republicans, but once having participated in the party nominating conventions and primaries, they are in all good conscience bound by the party action.

All Democrats will recall that at the head of each ballot in the July and August primaries was printed the following pledge:

"I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."

This pledge is required by law and no ticket is valid without the pledge.

This pledge is a moral obligation and is binding in honor and good conscience upon every voter in said primaries. A strenuous effort is being made by certain Republican leaders and certain disgruntled and defeated Democratic politicians to persuade the Democrats of Texas to violate their pledge and vote for the Republican candidate for Governor. All sorts of insidious and misleading arguments are being used to bolster up appeals to party disloyalty. The spirits of Washington and Lee are invoked and the people are told by Tom Love and Dr. Butte that Washington, the Father of his country, and Lee, the idol of the Southland, violated their pledges and that therefore the Democratic voters of Texas are justified in violating their primary pledges.

We resent this aspersion upon the memories of our illustrious dead. Washington and Lee were each confronted at the opening of a great war with the choice of Allegiance. They openly and earnestly and publicly made the choice and held firmly to their pledged allegiance until the last gun was fired.

The man in American history, who violated his pledge and gave a divided allegiance was not Washington, was not Lee, but was Benedict Arnold. At the beginning of the Revolutionary War he cast his lot with and pledged his allegiance to the American cause but later because of jealousy and fancied wrongs from his own associates, he went over to the enemy. Butte and Love should conjure with the name of Benedict Arnold and not lay unholy tongues upon the stainless names of Washington and Lee.

The Democrats of Texas knew all about the candidates for Governor at the July and August primaries that they know now and with his knowledge before them participated in said primaries. Can we say now that our pledge is but a "scrap of paper?"

To our surprise we hear that some men who aspire to moral leadership among our people are counselling voters to violate their pledge. That great Book from which they should draw their moral inspiration condemns them. Moses, the great law-giver, inspired of God, wrote, "That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform." Deuteronomy, Chapter III, verse 23. King David, the man after God's own heart, in describing a citizen of Zion, said that one of his qualifications was: "He that sweareth to his own hurt and changeth not." Psalm XV, verse 4.

The Democracy of Milam County and of Texas must administer a deserved rebuke to these political descendants of E. J. Davis, Carpet Bag Cohorts, and to their miscalled bed fellows.

Democracy expects every voter to do his duty.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party.

Remember the date, November 4th. Go to the polls and vote for Democracy. Your committee expects it. Your party expects it. YOUR PLEDGE REQUIRES IT.

Respectfully,

MILAM COUNTY DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

ALEX COCHRAN, PIONEER CONFEDERATE IS DEAD

WIDELY KNOWN MILAM COUNTY FAMILY GRIEVES LOSS OF AGED MAN

At the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ben Baker near Marlow, Mr. Alex Cochran, Confederate soldier, died Tuesday in the late afternoon. His death was sudden but followed a long period of weakness. He had been blind for some time. He leaves a family widely and favorably known in Milam County. He had many friends who appreciated the value of his rugged character. His wife preceded him to the grave and his children now mourn the loss of both parents.

The funeral was conducted by the Green Brothers undertaking parlors in Cameron with interment in Marlow cemetery.

Mr. Cochran was born in Georgia. He served bravely for the Confederacy under General John B. Gordon. After the Civil War he came to Texas. He and another boy and a mule made the long journey together, walking and riding as convenient. He came to Milam County and lived near Rice school house for more than sixty years. Recently he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ben Baker, where he passed away Monday evening. So sorrow builds the shining ladder up Whose golden rods are our calamities When our feet firm planting nearer God, The spirit climbs and hath its eyes unsealed.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

MOREHOUSE GIVES PLAN TO PROTECT PEOPLE FROM WILD-CAT PROMOTERS

American Bankers Association Official Who Has Exposed
Fraudulent Schemes for Robbing Savers Draws
Up Set of Rules to Foil Crooks.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. IV

THE solution to the great problem of protecting savings depositors from losing their money in fraudulent schemes is largely in the hands of our bankers. If they will co-operate with those who save they can make it hard for these plunderers to continue business. Hasten the day when our bankers without exception will gladly welcome interviews with depositors who contemplate making investments, will urge an investigation or recommend in the stead of little-known securities investments of unquestioned responsibility. In every case where customers call at the bank excited and nervous over some scheme where by investing a few hundred dollars they expect to make thousands any banker will at once sense the situation.

W. R. Morehouse

The banker knows that the depositor is being rushed off his feet, with "Hurry, hurry and get in on the big clean-up!" and it remains for the banker to caution the depositor against such tactics. In order to prevent this all that our bankers have to do is to suggest that their customers make it a rule always to bring high-pressure salesmen to the bank to be interrogated regarding their promotions. This will break up sales nine times out of ten, for high-pressure salesmen invariably avoid being questioned too closely by bankers who know investments.

Rules to Follow

Our bankers should urge this investment slogan: "Investigate before you invest. Consult your banker first," and so indelibly impress it on the minds of their depositors that they will always be guided by their banker's advice in making investments. Salient points which should be kept before the investing depositor are:

(1) There are three cardinal points to all good investments, namely safety of principal, certainty of income and salability.

(2) Safety of principal is more important than a high yield; the promise of big returns is usually a sign of a risky speculation.

(3) It is like taking a leap in the dark to invest in promotions which are an unknown quantity and for this reason a thorough investigation should always be made.

(4) It is morally wrong, if not criminally so, for any person to invest in any proposition he feels is a skin game, or which is tainted by trickery or fraud or opens the way for a favored few to "get in on the ground floor," clean up and get out from under before the scheme collapses. Usually the depositor finds he is not in on the ground floor, there is no chance for him to clean up before the scheme collapses and so he loses all that he has invested.

(5) If a promotion is as good as claimed, it would not be necessary for high-pressure salesmen to resort to all sorts of questionable methods, it would not be necessary to rush a victim off his feet and sign him up before he could interview his banker, but he could be given time to consult others before investing.

(6) The only reason high-pressure pirates go to those who are inexperienced in finance for funds is because they can palm off on them so-called investments which in the eyes of men of experience are valueless.

(7) The glib-talking promoter is not a true friend of the savings depositor but is a wolf in sheep's clothing. He will resort to any kind of trickery to exchange a certificate of stock for the depositor's cash, his glittering promises are fictitious and he is planning how he can entrap his victims and relieve them of their savings and not how he can make good dividends for them.

(8) For every oil well that pays dividends there are many dry holes and abandoned drilling rigs, and for every profitable mine there are many abandoned shafts, and for every successful promotion there are a thousand failures, and because of these facts the savings depositor's chance of winning is too small to justify the great risk involved.

(9) Savers should steer clear of stock, shares or units in world-revolutionizing inventions which are peddled in front of empty stores or sold from house to house or through the mails.

(10) Every novice investor should remember that, as in all lines of business, black sheep have invaded the investment field. They must be shunned, while investment firms and salesmen of responsibility and integrity should be supported.

Let our banks unite in a movement designed to protect the depositor against the schemes of the wild-cat promoter—in a movement that will save our savings depositors from despair and from poverty as a result of having lost all—in a movement that will turn into legitimate investment channels the millions of dollars which are now wasted on fraudulent schemes of one kind or another. The best service a bank can render a novice investor is to keep him from making poor investments by helping him to make good ones.

MAYOR CALLS ON PEOPLE TO CUT WEEDS ON LOTS

SAYS LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO REQUEST AND CITY
URGES COMPLIANCE

Mayor Davis has issued an appeal to the citizens to co-operate with the city sanitarian in cutting weeds on their property and on vacant lots owned by them.

This is a part of the clean up campaign inaugurated by the sanitarian. The following appeal by the mayor is addressed to the people:

"Last week the citizens of Cameron were asked by the City Sanitarian to see to it that the weeds on their property within the City Limits and on the sidewalks adjoining such property were cut this week. This request has received little attention from our citizenship.

"In view of the fact that the City Council is earnestly trying to make Cameron an ideal city in which to live, it is hereby seriously requested that the weeds within the city limits be cut at the earliest possible date.

JUDD G. DAVIS, Mayor.

A CORRECTION

In publishing the official ballot for the primary election two weeks ago the Herald got the names of candidates for Justice of Peace transposed and thereby made an error in the position of J. M. Ralston on the ballot.

In the drawing for places on the ballot Mr. Ralston drew first place. As published it indicated he had drawn second place. This is an error and having our attention called to it by Mr. Ralston we gladly make this correction and add that Mr. Ralston drew first place on the ballot instead of second place as shown by the newspaper publication.

CHICKEN DINNER SERVED TO BUSINESS WOMEN

WAYSIDE INN HOSPITALITY EXTENDED TO CLUB FROM CITY

The Business and Professional Women's Club enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner with all accessories that go with it, including ice cream, last Tuesday evening at the Wayside Inn. The previously appointed committee, Misses Rose Rischer, Willyne Hyde, Imogene and Lucille McLarran, Mesdames Cora Cammer and A. J. Lewis, prepared a dainty basket filled with good eats.

The crowd gathered at the Bigbee House and motored out at 7:30 to the beautiful and attractive grounds that are well filled with swings, settees, tables and ideal spot to enjoy a picnic which is rapidly becoming quite popular with the public.

At the conclusion of the feast, in the absence of Miss Rose Rischer, Miss Delphya Scott presided over a short business session, at which time Miss Mary Lake Henderson, chairman of the committee to look into the matter of the club federating with the state Business and Professional Women's Club, made a report. After a brief discussion it was voted to table the report until the president of the club, Miss Annie Stallworth, would be present, which would give the committee more time to talk with the members in regard to federation. They also voted to disband for the month of August as many of the members will be out of town on their annual vacations and will hold their next meeting at the regular time the first Tuesday in September. Committee for that occasion will be appointed later.

The club gave a rising vote of thanks to the entertainment committee for this month for the splendid feast; and to Messrs. Elwood Cammer and Ed Balhorn for their delightful services in helping to make the occasion such a delightful one.

EARLE SEARS BURIED AT WALKERS CREEK

TERRY COUNTY MAN SUCCUMBS
AFTER TYPHOID-PNEUMONIA
ATTACK

The death of Earle Sears 23, occurred on Sunday July 4, 1926 at two p. m. at his home in Cameron. The funeral occurred Monday at Walker's Creek church with interment in Walker's Creek cemetery.

The pall bearers were Drayton McLane, Homer McLane, O. W. Crittenden, Earl Moseley and Harry Davis.

Rev. E. S. Hutcherson conducted the funeral services and Coleman-Eplen were undertakers. Mr. Sears is survived by his young wife and his father and mother, who came from Brownfield, Terry county to be with Mr. Sears in his illness which lasted forty-four days. He died of typhoid pneumonia. His mother now has typhoid contracted by nursing her son.

Many friends regret the passing of this promising young man who has been a valued employee in the Robert McLane Wholesale Company for some time.

The floral tributes sent by friends were many and beautiful. The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved.

ECONOMY--

"The Greatest Virtue"

It has been rightly said:

"Saving money is foolish to the fool and a nuisance to the careless, but to the man who thinks of the perils of poverty, economy is the first and greatest virtue. If you are too indifferent or too weak to save, put yourself in a position where you will be FORCED to save."

"Now we are getting well along into spring. In the next 30 days I expect to see the greatest buying period of automobiles this city has ever known."

This is the opinion of Horstmann Bros. Hudson-Essex distributor, who is backing his belief by a selling schedule for the next 30 days which will surpass any previous mark ever made in this territory. Mr. Horstmann went on to explain his optimism for increased business, as follows:

"The public has been waiting for this spring weather. Winter certainly held on this year just as long as it could. There are thousands of motorists fully intending to buy cars this spring who have been waiting for the weather to break. When you add this big total of delayed business to the ordinary spring demand for cars, you are simply bound to have a big volume."

me. "In the past week we have felt the first bulge of this coming business. It has been coming along gradually, but growing a bit stronger every day. Every day of good weather is a powerful stimulus. Bright spring days call for new cars. With conditions so universally prosperous, and with all classes of population sharing liberally in it, this demand for motor cars is only natural. It will direct itself logically to those lines of motor cars which offer the best value for money expended and which are advertised and sold in the most modern and progressive lines.

"We are now in an age of motor car competition when every factor counts. The Hudson-Essex organization has felt a great wave of commendation on its at-your-door system of pricing and advertising automobiles. This is a reform which the public has sought for a long time. It is without doubt a step forward in frankness and better business methods.

"The public can now look at the advertised price of a Hudson or Essex car, and know that is the actual price at which the car can be bought, with no string of incidentals and extras attached. By the way, I believe that this at-your-door innovation is the only change in the method of selling automobiles we have ever seen for many years. But others will come."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

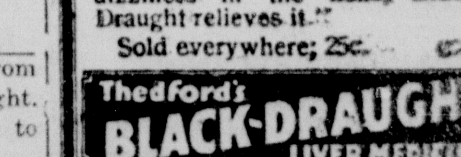

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles W. Wintz, of R. P. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that would press and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix."

"I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it."

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I would eat anything I want to. If I get dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

BRIDGE WITH MRS. BERT MILLER

Mrs. Bert Miller entertained five tables of bridge players at her attractive home in the Green Addition last Wednesday and Thursday evenings. On Wednesday evening ten young married couples were the favored guests and on Thursday evening a bevy of charming young maids and matrons enjoyed her hospitality. Japanese lanterns and vari-colored zinnias and daisies were used in her decorative scheme which was artistic. Rainbow colored covers were used on the card tables and the flower and parasol idea furnished the motif for the game accessories. On Wednesday evening Mrs. Shofner Stirling made high score and was given a Japanese Boy Statuette and Mrs. Eugene Green made low score and received a dainty hand painted handkerchief folded as a parasol. On Thursday evening Mrs. W. B. Denson was recipient of high score prize, a Japanese Girl Statuette and Miss Jennie Brown was given a hand painted handkerchief folded in parasol fashion. Pink and white brick cream with individual cake squares embossed with pink hearts and diamonds was served to each group of guests. Miss Jennie Brown assisted in hostess duties. The prizes were each made by the clever hostess and each evening's hospitality was most pleasing and delightful.

MRS. KESTENBAUM ENTERTAINS

Two groups of the friends of Mrs. S. Kestenbaum were invited to enjoy the splendid hospitality of her perfectly appointed home last Thursday morning and afternoon in honor of the presence of a friend from Fort Worth. Mrs. Miller Bridge and 42 were the chosen diversions. The beauty and fragrance of summer flowers artistically arranged lent grace to the home. Fruit punch was served to the players. Butterfly trays centered each table and were awarded as favors in the cut. An attractive luncheon set was presented to the honoree, Mrs. Miller, and a dainty georgette handkerchief to Mrs. A. L. Levy of Rogers at the morning party. A two course luncheon was served. Mrs. Kestenbaum was assisted by Mrs. Ben Winfield and Miss Sophie Winfield of Los Angeles, California in hostess duties. Handsome corsages of rosebuds and sweet peas were given as plate favors. At the afternoon party a wall vase of lovely flowers and a perfume atomizer were the trophies for skill. Among those bidden to enjoy this series of two pleasing hospitalities were: Mesdames Miller of Fort Worth, A. L. Levy of Rogers, Miss Sophia Winfield of Los Angeles, California, Miss May Marshall, Mesdames Roy Law, Leland Green, Clyde Shipp, W. B. Levy, Andrew Freeman, Conn Miller, Ben Winfield, Joe Denson, T. J. Denson, R. B. Rylander, Howard Baskin, Chas. F. Green, S. A. Cottle, Fred Cable, Geo. Graves, Roger Neblett of Abilene and Fritz Fahrendorf.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

A bridge luncheon in honor of Miss Blanche Stirling of Killean was the compliment extended to her guest by Mrs. Shofner Stirling on Thursday. Three tables were outfitted for a series of bridge games. The honoree was given a colonial call bell. Mrs. Clytus Ford was consoled for low score with a dainty hand painted handkerchief. A two course luncheon was attractively served. The guest personnel included Mesdames Clifton Jenness, A. E. Green, Thad Epperson, Vernon Roberts, W. B. Denson, Terry Wiley, John Muse, Clytus Ford, Misses Blanche Stirling, Eloise Rogers, Eugenia Wallace, Jennie Tyson, Lou Davis, and Gladys Harris of Buckholts.

FAMILY REUNION

Sunday the city park in Belton was the scene of a pleasant family reunion. Mrs. Mary Robinson, Miss Tabbie Robinson, John Cooper of Cameron met a number of relatives in the park and all spread a picnic lunch and enjoyed a happy day together. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mont Lyles, Elmer Lyles of Temple, Miss Hazel Lyles of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Duling of Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson and their four children, Ruth, Hazel, Robert and Lorene of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunnicutt of Moffatt and Miss Rachel Cooper of Baylor College.

LINDSEY REUNION

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Lindsey enjoyed a reunion at the Wayside Inn Tourist Park Monday evening with a picnic supper. Following this the evening was spent in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Lindsey. Several young people were invited to meet the young guests of the Lindsey family; these including Misses Clyde and Lena Bell Baskin, Sue Griffin Webb, Moulton Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price. The families of T. N. Lindsey, D. L. Lindsey, Joe B. Lindsey, J. B. Collier, Bob Terry were hosts for the occasion. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lindsey, their sons, Mack and William A. and their daughters, Misses Maud and Minnie Lou Lindsey of Batesville, Arkansas; Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lindsey and their sons, Paul and Tommie D. Jr. of Newark, Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lindsey and their daughter, Miss Taeleda and their son, A. C. Lindsey of Waco and Mrs. Grace Lindsey Davidson and son, W. S. Davidson, Jr., of Temple.

This very pleasant occasion will long be remembered by the more than forty-two participants in the 1926 Lindsey family reunion.

DORCAS CLASS

The Dorcas Class, whose membership is among the young mothers of the Baptist church met Thursday afternoon for a business and social session in the City Park. Vacancies in the class officers were filled by election. After all business was transacted a social session and a picnic lunch was thoroughly enjoyed.

CLASS PICNIC

The Sunday School class of Mrs. H. N. Tate enjoyed a picnic Tuesday afternoon from five to eight at the Cone-Burke Tourist Park at the new bridge on Little River. The girls invited the boys of Alfred Walston's class to enjoy the picnic with them. Twenty-two were present. Mrs. Tate was assisted by Mesdames R. B. Rylander and Owens in entertaining the crowd. All had a gay good time and hope that Mrs. Tate will sponsor another picnic soon.

Mrs. Robert Terry visited her sister, Mrs. W. S. Davidson in Temple last week.

SLUMBER PARTY

The thirteenth birthday of Geraldine Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Lindsey was celebrated with a picnic supper on the home lawn, a play in the city park and a slumber party at the Lindsey home. A big birthday cake with the emblem of fortune was cut. Laurita Evans found the coin, Annette Ryan the button and Julia Mae McCollum the thimble.

S. S. CLASS PARTY

Mrs. F. J. Beckerman was hostess to her Sunday School class for an afternoon party. A book illustrating the Life of Christ was made by pasting in suitable pictures and verses of scripture. Some of the girls gave piano solos and readings. Soda pop, ice cream and cake was abundantly served and those present declared this was the best party ever, thanks to Mrs. Beckerman.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

The women of the Episcopal Auxiliary met last Monday with Mrs. Ox-sheer Smith.

The business of the meeting included appreciative acknowledgments of clothing sent to a mission home and of the United Thanks Offering forwarded by this branch for women workers. World were discussed and several interesting articles read from "The Spirit of Missions". The afternoon closed with a social half hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Colburn and their three children, Byron Jr., Mary Lee and James Frederick visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Batte Sr., last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lindsey with their two sons, Mack and William A. and their charming daughters, Misses Maud Marvin and Winnie Lou Lindsey of Batesville, Arkansas arrived Saturday for a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lindsey and the families of relatives in Cameron.

Tiny Finds a Way

By HOMER B. KING

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TO BIG JIM CARNAHAN—Lippy—and Tiny Perkin, had come the parting of the ways.

It was the finding of a rich old river bed at the end of the fifty-foot tunnel they had driven into a hill that caused the trouble; after years of seeking, the possibility of sudden wealth had suddenly awakened in Lippy the devil cupid.

Today the last of the gravel they had wheeled out was being sluiced and Carnahan had driven Tiny away, swearing he would twist his skinny old neck if he came back before the work was finished. Sneaking around through the brush, Tiny hid close to where the big fellow was working, and for two hours watched him, and before leaving he knew Carnahan was robbing him.

When Carnahan entered the cabin Tiny greeted him in his usual cheery manner.

"How'd she clean, Lippy, boy?" he chirped.

"Not much—that's all." Carnahan growled, dropping two slim buckskin dust bags on a slab table.

An hour after Carnahan took from beneath his bunk two other bags of gold dust.

"Pull up!" he ordered. "I'm going to divide what we've got."

"What's the idea, boy? Can't we do that when we get to Mt. Idaho?"

"No! We're splittin' right now."

"Why?"

"Because," Lippy rasped, thrusting his heavy face forward, "because, old man, you leave tomorrow for outside. I'm through supportin' you."

"Why, Lippy, you ain't supportin' me—our claim's more than doin' that." Carnahan laughed shortly.

"Our claim?" he scoffed. "Ain't you woke up yet to the fact that you ain't got no claim? It's mine, old man."

After pouring half of the second bag on a piece of paper, folding it and pushing it toward Tiny, he rose, and first placing his gold beneath his jacket pillow he dropped on his bunk.

For a time Tiny sat silent. "Boy," he at last quivered, "what you've done ain't square, but I've lived a long time and seen lots of things—and understand. I've found out that gold madness is worse than most anything a man can get—and Lippy you've got it!"

"Shut up or I'll—" "See," Tiny interrupted, "it'd make you murder your best friend. Come on, son, let's get away. We'll go down to Mt. Idaho and spend the winter."

Carnahan leaped to his feet. "Cut it, you old rat! I know what you are drivin' at—you want to get me out where you can make a fight for half of this claim. Well, you don't do it—and tomorrow you git!"

It was after midnight when Tiny, leaving Carnahan snoring loudly, slipped out and hurried up the creek to the tunnel. Lighting a stub of candle he went inside. In half an hour he found Carnahan's cache. His next move was to stick fuses into several sticks of giant. Five fuses he capped; the others he only tied to the powder and dropped them into a sack which he hung across his shoulder, leaving the fuses dangling. Next he placed two of the loaded sticks at the tunnel mouth, lighted them and ran down the creek toward the cabin.

He was still running when the explosion came and small rocks rattled about him. He heard the roar of sliding earth and knew the tunnel was no more. Next he heard Carnahan yelling his name as he ran toward him, and slipping into the brush he let him rush past. Then he ran on to the cabin.

First he took the gold from beneath Carnahan's pillow. Next he carried out their remaining grub, Carnahan's clothes and their blankets. Dividing the food he put his part into his sack; the other half he left on top of the blankets. Placing two sticks of giant in the doorway he again ran. Then came the roar and the cabin was a jumble of logs.

"Two minutes after, raging like a crazy man, Carnahan came running back, and Tiny, swinging about his head a stick of dynamite with lighted fuse, yelling like a mad man, leaped toward him.

"Git out of the way!" he screamed. "Git! I'm comin'. I'm the powder man—powder man!" he sang, and disappeared into the bush as the roar of the powder he had thrown sounded.

Lippy gave one look and ran as though devils were pursuing him.

In Mt. Idaho, two days later, Lippy, red-eyed and haggard from sleepless nights of terror, stood before Sheriff Adams.

"I tell you, sheriff," he was saying, "he's plum crazy. Poor little devil. Why, man, he done his best to blow me to smithereens with dynamite. He did blow up our tunnel and cabin. We'd made the biggest cleanup of our lives, too, and he blowed it plum to kingdom come, but—"

"Hello, Lippy—figgered I'd find you here," Tiny called from the doorway. "Beat me in by an eyelash, didn't you?"

"Look out!" Lippy yelled, dodging behind a desk. "Look out! He's got the powder in that sack! Look out!"

Tiny grinned.

"Don't get excited, sheriff. I throwed the powder away 'fore I got into town. I got suthin' better'n powder here," and he dumped on the desk six buckskin bags. "Wish you'd weigh that sheriff. Half's mine and half's Lippy's. Him and me had a little argument back at the mine. Howsomever, it's settled now, ain't it Lippy?"

Rockdale Dan Moody Crowd

The Mysterious Mr. Brown

T. S. Henderson says: "You can't count the leaves of the trees or the sands of the sheashore" so I didn't try to count the crowd. But it was the largest assemblage I have ever seen in Milam County, and I have seen them all. In my mind I compare it with the heretofore record-breaking Hogg and Clark speaking at the Park in Cameron; and there were twice as many people to hear Dan Moody as there were at that famous meet. There is no longer any doubt as to how Milam County will vote on the 24th of July. I hope our friends who are supporting Davidson will see the light and come over and help make the victory decisive.

"Dan did surely pour the live coals down Jim's back. I was especially interested in what he said about Jim Ferguson rewarding his friend Morris Brown. That was one feature of the Hoffman Company Road Contracts that I had not heard before. It seems that when the company found out what good contracts it had they got very liberal with Morris Brown, Jim's Bell County friend, and agreed to pay him a salary of $500.00 a month and one-half of the profits of the road contracts, although he was neither an officer nor stockholder but was merely a good friend of Jim Ferguson's. That called to my mind a little incident that happened last Saturday when I was down at San Antonio. I was sitting in the lobby of the Gunter Hotel and a well dressed, rather good looking man sat down by me and directly he said, 'where are you from?' I answered, 'Up in the central part of the state.' He asked, 'Much politics up there?' I said, 'Yes, it's livening up some.' He said, 'Well, it just looks like Ferguson is going to sweep southwest Texas. They never got many votes down here before, but this time they are carrying everything before them.' I asked, 'What do you reckon has caused such a change?' He answered, 'Well I don't know.' I then said, 'Well, they'll have to get all the votes down here if they hope to overcome the big majority Dan is going to get in central Texas and other parts of the state.' I said to him, 'My name is Henderson. What is your name?' He said 'Brown.' I asked, 'Are you one of the Brown family of San Marcos?' He answered, 'No, I was raised up in Belton, in Bell County.' He seemed right busy about the hotel lobby interviewing people who came in, but he did passed out of my mind until Dan Moody told what a rich reward Morris Brown was getting out of the Hoffman Company Road Contracts. I then recalled that he was the same Brown whom I had met at the Gunter Hotel. I learned during the day from others well posted at San Antonio, however, that San Antonio, Bexar County and southwest Texas generally are overwhelmingly for Dan Moody, notwithstanding the mysterious Mr. Brown.

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat too much meat.

No man or woman who eats lots of meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much meat may form uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood; then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

Ben Atkinson was accompanied on a motor trip to Taylor on Tuesday by Misses Dora Emily Moore and Florence Atkinson.

Dr. and Mrs. John Denson, Misses Louise and Dorothy Denson have returned from a motor trip to Miss.

Miss Doris Robinett has concluded a visit to Miss Dora Emily Moore and returned to her home in Brownwood.

Mrs. W. Moody and son, Dwight Moody are visiting Mrs. Hilton Culpepper in Polarville, Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Rosenberg spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moody.

Miss Olga Marek, who underwent an operation at the Cameron Hospital several weeks ago has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Peyton have visited in Cleburne and Ft. Worth this week.

Mrs. Cannon of Rosebud visited her daughter, Mrs. Bismark Horstmann this week.

What Maud Purina Represents

MAUD PURINA is the most famous mule character in the country. Most everybody knows Maud. Maud is an amusing mule. But her main intent in life is to represent Purina O-Molene, the balanced feed for mules and horses. Maud has shown thousands of horse and mule owners why dry, tasteless oats, corn and hay do not produce the most energy and longest service from work animals.

It is not the quantity you feed but the kind. Corn and oats lack variety and make it necessary to send mules and horses to pasture, if they are expected to last long.

Purina O-Molene supplies the necessary variety to keep the animals in good health and make them stronger. The choice grains are put through a special process that makes them more appetizing. This process also makes O-Molene more completely digestible. This, of course, produces more results. And you use much less O-Molene than ordinary grains or "mixed feed."

Try a few bags and watch the excellent results.

HERE SATURDAY

An Alabama farm boy's love for music and his desire to play the violin has ended in "Uncle Mike" James of Houston being acclaimed champion "fiddler" of Texas.

Where others are violinists and musicians, Uncle Mike is a fiddler, he said. And his fiddling netted him $100 cash and first honors in the state contest in Cameron.

Sixty-four years of violin playing passed before Uncle Mike won the state championship at the age of 72.

Many obstacles were overcome by Uncle Mike in learning to fiddle. Obstacles brought about by the civil war and by lack of proper equipment. But they were overcome.

A curved stick with a few hairs from a horse's tail formed Uncle Mike's first bow. And a tiny violin, traded from an uncle for several yards of homespun cloth when he was 8 years old was his first musical instrument.

"You couldn't buy bows up in north Alabama then," Uncle Mike explained Monday. "I made mine that way. Just took a stick and bent it and tied some horse hairs to it. The violin was the only one I could get."

Civil War came along when Uncle Mike was a lad of 6. Two years afterward he began playing. Then were more troubles placed in the path of his musical desire. Troubles brought about by the war.

"You couldn't buy violin strings and they would break. I used silk thread, horse hairs and anything else that would make a squeak under the bow. The biggest dance I ever played for found me ready with a silk thread E-string."

Sixty-seven Confederate soldiers found Uncle Mike's first reward. "Had to play all night at a dance for the soldiers. Went to sleep and when I woke up they crammed $67 in my pockets and sent me home. I was 9 years old then."

Back in 1893, Uncle Mike came to Texas. Since then he has lived in this state. He came to Houston about 15 years ago from North Texas and now lives with his daughter, Mrs. F. W. Baumann, 1207 Providence.

Old time tunes, waltzes, schottisches, hornpipes and pulse-quickeners, ragtime selections are all that Uncle Mike plays. "I learned to play by ear. That's why I am a fiddler and others are violinists," he explained.

"My mother was a widow woman," he continued. "Townpeople wanted to take me and give me music lessons, but when they heard me play so well by ear, they thought it would ruin me to be given lessons. Wish now I had taken them," he added.

Uncle Mike had played in many Texas contests before his "winning" Saturday at Cameron when old-time fiddlers held a contest under the auspices of the American Legion. His previous contests, however, had been county ones, and he won many first places in them.

June 28, he packed his 15-year-old violin in his suitcase and hid himself to Cameron. Saturday night, he was awarded first prize of $100 over Tom Choate, champion Milam County fiddler and 14 others in the meet. Choate was given second prize of $50.

Three numbers he played by request for a friend won the championship for Uncle Mike. Rollicking strains of "The Old Gray Mare," "Arkansas Traveler," and "Fisher's Hornpipe" were the three. "The judges liked them," Uncle Mike's explanation of his winning.

Resting at home Uncle Mike has his eyes turned toward radioland. "My friends want me to play over the ether waves. I would like to do it, but my health is pretty bad right now. However, he concluded. "I'll be alright in a few weeks, then I'll be ready to play some more."

Uncle Mike expresses his heartfelt thanks for the splendid treatment and many courtesies extended him during the time he was in Cameron for the contest.

He declares that any fiddler who contests him will have to play him in Cameron. He won the championship here and expects to defend it here.

BUCKHOLTS FARM WIFE WINS TRIP TO A. & M. COLLEGE FOR BEST KITCHEN

PRIZE WINNER AT HER WORK

Mrs. Carl Morris of Buckholts, washing the dishes in her prize-winning kitchen. Mrs. Morris maintained the best-equipped kitchen in Milam County and was awarded a trip to the Farmers' Short Course at A. & M. College.

Davilla, June 25.—The first prize winner of the best all round equipped kitchen for Milam County was to be given a trip to the farmers' short course at A. & M. College without costs. These kitchen improvements were to be made out of material around the place that was not in use and as near as possible without cost to the improvers. The purpose was to make a kitchen that was as convenient as possible, saved steps for the housewife and made the work of cooking and preparing the meal easier.

When the judges finally came to a decision on the best kitchen entered in the contest, they picked the kitchen of Mrs. Carl Morris, route No. 3, from Buckholts. The entire cost of this kitchen's improvements was $16.87. The kitchen is 14x7 1-2 feet with two built in closets and a semi-built-in cabinet. However these things were already there, but a few handy improvements were made to these and new fixtures put in. The winner of the prize can best tell how all this was done.

Husband Helped in Work

"My husband and I did all the work of improving this kitchen, doing the work at times when we could not work in the field. Most of the material was gathered up about the place, except a few new kitchen utensils and the hard oak composition rug on the floor.

"The first thing we tackled was the kitchen cabinet. It was already built, but was four inches too low. The cabinet was raised by putting a four-inch board under it."

"But how did you know it was too low?" some one asked.

"Because the proper height for a cabinet or work table, sink and the stove, should be such as that when the house wife stands up against it and lets her arms drop down, the palms of the hands should rest lightly on the top of each. This eliminates so much of the backstrain of bending over to a table that is too low. Our stove was likewise raised one inch. There are two closets in each side of my cabinet, which is built in the wall between these. In one closed closet I kept fruit and canned meats and such stored. In the other right by the side of my sink, I keep the pots and pans, so that I can reach in and put them away or take them out and never get off the stool. This saves time and trouble.

Other Improvements

"The running water used to be out on the porch. When I wanted water I had to go out there for it. Now it is right here in the room and cost but a few cents to put it there. The kitchen sink, which was one of the most expensive articles we had to buy, is set into the top of a home-made closet, in which there are shelves and in here I also keep cooking utensils. At one side of the sink is my drain board, made by putting a piece of sink over a board and building it slanting. Under this drain board is the bucket in which pour the dishwasher. The drain board serves as a cover for it, and then it can be removed when desired. This saves having to make many extra trips to pour out the slops. The clear rinsing water runs out from the sink into the yard."

"How many steps do you figure this kitchen saves you?"

"Oh, I don't have any idea. I can tell you one thing though, and I used to keep the matches in that corner over there, the wood in this other corner and the paper, etc., over here. Now my fire can be made without taking a step away from the stove. On the outside my husband built a wood box and the box opens into the room right here by the stove. Just reach in and get all the wood you want, provided the man who is supposed to keep the box full does his duty. I sometimes have trouble in that way. But back on the subject. There is the wood, just over this is a shelf on which I keep the matches and hanging on the nail by the side of the shelf is a can containing ashes soaked in coal oil, with which a fire can be built quickly and safely. A rag holder right here in a holder by the stove keeps holders with which to lift off hot pots and pans.

Everything Convenient

"We keep a breakfast table in the kitchen and eat from it quite often, especially during the winter time. My curtain goods for the two windows cost me 80c. There is a window box on one window where I set things to cool. It is well screened and large and roomy. The stool I have we made and is a handy thing to have at hand. In the back of the kitchen cabinet I had a door made which permits me to serve things into the dining room, without having to walk around into the other room.

"A feature of our small kitchen is Walls Painted that most of the handy things are built in or hanging on the wall. The garbage bucket container at one end of the sink can be removed so we can get behind the stove. There is a place for the lamp right over the sink. The walls were papered and I painted over them three times with a light green paint and they look like new walls now.

"On the walls is a clock, and I have scales, calendars, memorandum pads and everything the county farm demonstrator could think of that would help."

We were rather surprised at the reformation made in this particular kitchen, for we had seen it several years before. In fact the improvements were improvements at our own home and so good we decided to try out some enter the kitchen contest for the year 1927. If there is a chance to win a prize anything like as nice as a free trip to College Station, this alone would pay for the time and expense of making such improvements, let alone the work and steps saved by such improvements. It really takes but a little effort and means much. Having to go to one corner for the cooking utensils, wash them in another cook stove in another makes many unnecessary steps when all three could be in one end of the room. See the farm woman demonstrator for facts about the kitchen contests and try for the best kitchen in your community. It pays in the long run.—Austin-American-Statesman.

HONEYSUCKLE

By Max Reynolds, Dallas

In the summer Helen always poured tea at 4 o'clock. In the garden. One could smell the delicious scents of honeysuckle. Apple blossoms. Helen always sat in an old iron chair. It seemed to fit her so. Her bright red straw hat clashed across the sky. Clouds of soft purple and subdued shell-rose rolled over her head. But she never took notice of them. She poured the tea quietly into the shining china cups. There were different colors. Coral pink. Iris yellow. Iridescent blue. Porcelain. Clean and sparkling. The tea. So beautiful. An orange colored tea. Delicious. Refreshing. Helen's hands moved so gracefully. Like swans. Fingers. Long and tapering. She never talked when she poured tea. It seemed to spoil it so. She was quiet. Beautifully quiet. Her lips were exquisite. To look at. They were so cool. And her eyes. Pools of loveliness. Dark. And gleaming. A smile played in her eyes. Laughing, dancing, devilish eyes. Helen-Helen. Quiet and serene. Pouring tea in the garden. And the smell of honeysuckle. Apple blossoms. Faint, delirious perfume. Honey on bread. And wine. Golden-red. So cooling.

More Dependable Than Ever

Dodge Brothers, Inc., achieved third place in world production this Spring because they have been able—WITHOUT SACRIFICING FUNDAMENTALS—steadily to improve the smartness, comfort and smoothness of their product.

Owners and engineers know well that mechanically the car is sturdier than ever—cost of upkeep lower—and performance more dependable.

Refinements and lower prices have been made possible by spectacular increases in sales. Not by violating the basic tenet of Dodge Brothers success: NEVER TO LOWER QUALITY IN A SINGLE DETAIL.

LOTT YOUNG MAN, A STUDENT AT AUSTIN TO ENTER MEDICAL COLLEGE

Sherman, Texas, July 5.—Robert L. Currie of Lott, Texas, prominent Austin College student who recently took his degree at that College, and member of a family which has been almost constantly represented in the College for more than thirty years, will enter the Texas Medical College at Galveston at the opening of the fall term. Currie took the pre-medical course at Austin College. He made an exceptional record, having gained election to the honor scholarship society. He was also active in student affairs, was president of the College Y. M. C. A. in his senior year, had been president of the Athenaeum Literary Society, was treasurer of his class and took part in athletics, especially football.

LOTT YOUNG WOMAN LEADS ACTIVITY AT PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

Sherman, Texas, July 5.—Miss Maggie Carrell Barganier of Lott, Texas, is spending the summer at her home after completing her sophomore year's work in Austin College where she took a leading part in student affairs. She was chosen president of the women's choral club and served throughout the year; she was also a member of the Kappa Gamma Chi literary society, and took an active part in the women's student government organization, the Girls' Council. Miss Barganier and a brother, James, who was also a member of the sophomore class last year, will return to Austin College for junior work in September. Mr. A. Barganier of Lott is their father.

SLEDGE HOUSTON GRANTED BAIL WHEN JURY IN TRIAL OF HIS CASE FAILS TO AGREE; MAY COME TO MILAM

Belton, Texas, July 4.—After having been deadlocked for two days, the jury in the trial of W. Sledge Houston for the slaying of Garrett White was discharged to day.

The jury reported at 2 p. m. that it was still hopelessly deadlocked. Judge Lewis Jones discharged the jury and indicated that the case would be transferred to Travis, Williamson or Milam County.

Houston was pleased at the result. He thanked the jury for their consideration of the case, told them he bore no ill will and said he hoped they'd all go hunting with him this fall.

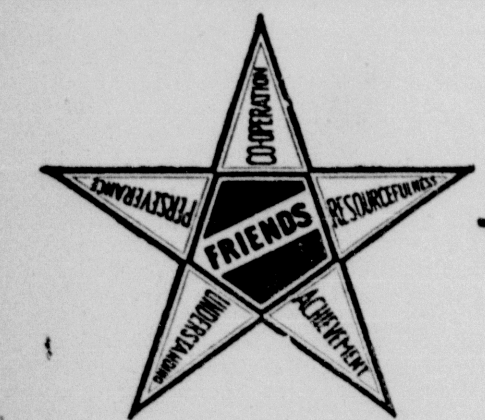

After having declared mistrial,

Mrs. V. L. White and children of Maysfield were guests of Miss Mollie Allen on Monday.

Misses Annie Stallworth and Bess Dunham and Mrs. Inez Voss left Saturday for an overland trip to Colorado. They will be away a month.

WHAT MOODY IS OPPOSING

Dan Moody, candidate for governor has made this statement: "I am opposed to Fergusonism and all that Fergusonism stands for." He never has qualified or modified that statement and on the theory that a candidate so impregnated with honesty means what he says it is pertinent to give a statement of the Fergusonism that Moody opposes. Here are some of the items against which his opposition is launched.

The semi-monthly pay day.

Free textbooks for Texas school children.

The land tenant law which curbs greedy landlords.

Taking the insane and decrepit unfortunates out of filthy jails and placing them in comfortable quarters.

Putting the penitentiary system upon a cash basis with inherited debts paid.

Tearing masks and hoods from the Ku Klux Klan and stopping river bottom tar and feather parties.

The search and seizure law which protects the home against marauding hi-jackers posing as officers of the law.

Adequate appropriations for schools, both rural schools and colleges of higher education.

Cessation of lynchings in Texas.

A treasury overflowing with cash.

Law enforcement for rich and poor alike.

Showing that mercy which preachers plead for on Sunday and denounce every week day.

Dan Moody is unqualifiedly against these things and says so because he says he is opposed to Fergusonism and everything that Fergusonism stands for.—Adv.

Political Treachery

I may be the bad man that many disappointed politicians want to picture me. I may, like all other mortals, have made mistakes. I may not have rendered the service to my day and generation that my friends think I have. Time alone will tell.

But if it is all true, it does not justify the personal ingratitude that has been visited on me by people whom I have befriended in time of political and material need. I have never been treated very bad except by people upon whom I had claims that no grateful person would have forgotten.

The ingratitude of Hobby, who sought my aid to elect him Lieutenant Governor in return for which he turned on me at the time when he should have been my friend, is only exceeded by Dan Moody's gratitude who sought my friendship and the support of my paper, when he was unknown to the people of Texas, and in return for which he is now going the Hobby route with the same political treachery.

In 1922 State Superintendent Marrs was vigorously opposed by Bentley. Bentley had the support of the clan and there was every evidence that he was going to beat Marrs. I was in the death grapple with Mayfield and the clan. Marrs and his friends sought the support of the Forum and I gladly gave it and my friends were asked to support Marrs. By the skin of his teeth he was pulled through. Though I had openly supported him it turned out that he never opened his mouth for me.

I have Marrs' letter written soon after that election in which he thanked me for my support of his candidacy.

But the thanks which he expressed were soon forgotten. He early in the game threw in with Moody to embarrass the governor's administration in every way. He is now asking the people to give him a third term while he is with Mody fighting the governor for a second term. If this is not political treachery then what is it?

Again two years ago, on account of the resignation of Dr. Splawn who had been nominated for Railroad Commissioner, Mr. Terrell was nominated in his place. Mr. Terrell's friends joined in my request to the State Executive Committee to nominate W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas County to succeed Mr. Terrell. He was nominated. I wired him and he, Hatcher, told me that when he received my telegram he liked to have fallen dead with gratitude. Hatcher had appealed to me previous to that time to recommend him to the governor for some place that would pay as much as $2,000 a year so he could move to Austin and complete the education of his family.

Knowing that he was not very smart, but believing he was very loyal I agreed to do so. When the treasurer's place was open I assisted him to get that. He had no sooner landed in Austin than he forgot everything I had done for him and took up with Sam Sparks' of Ku Klux fame, and who is the silent political Granny for Dan Moody in Austin and began to favor Sparks' band and they are now as thick as these kind of men always get to be when a watermelon cutting is on hand.

Hatcher in his opening speech at Hillsboro went out of his way to boost Dan Moody for governor.

While he, Hatcher is now asking the people to give him a second term, he is viciously fighting the governor who is asking a second term for himself.

Moody, Hatcher and Marrs have organized the Big Three to fight the Fergusons, when all three of them owe their present jobs to the Fergusons and their friends. In all history there has never been three more ungrateful individuals calling themselves men.

Moody is supporting Marrs for a third term and running against the governor for a second term. Moody is supporting Hatcher for a second term while Hatcher is fighting the governor for a second term, when if he was elected (which thank God he will not be) he would cry like a baby if somebody were to run against him for a second term. Hatcher is supporting Marrs for third term and fighting the governor for a second term. Ain't he the limit?

I had not intended to take any stock in anybody's race except the governor's race, but since this "Wicked Three" conspiracy has been hatched up I am telling my friends the truth so that they may be fully advised.

I am going to support J. R. Ball for state treasurer against Hatcher, because he is so different from Moody and Hatcher. When the war came on though Ball had a wife he waived all pleas for exemption and went to the battlefields of France to fight for his country. Dan Moody was afraid to go to war and stayed at home under a plea of deferred classification, although he was a single man, which the exemption board found, without dependent relatives. Hatcher did not go to war either and he is now supporting Dan Moody who, he knows, kept out of the war as long as he could.

I am going to support J. A. (Ab) Humphries for state superintendent because he is a good school man who has a good platform and having been raised in the country he is in thorough sympathy with the needs of the country schools. At the same time his educational attainments are sufficient to give him a full grasp of all educational problems in town and city as well.

Remember the "Wicked Three," Moody, Hatcher and Marrs.

Jas. E. Ferguson.

FUTURE BECKONS YOUNG AMERICANS

Achievements of Past Only Show
Great Opportunity Ahead.

Great events of the past quarter century which lead some young men to complain that all the big things have been done, leaving no opportunity for them, as a matter of fact only go to show that even greater opportunity today lies ahead of them, F. N. Shepherd, Executive Manager of the American Bankers Association, recently told members of the American Institute of Banking in New York. After reviewing the outstanding accomplishments in science, industry and finance during the last twenty-five years, Mr. Shepherd emphasized the reward given men of achievement in America, especially in the financial field.

"The achievements of the past are the groundwork for the opportunities of today and tomorrow," he said. "There never was a time when so great were the potentialities of the individual. The world was never so ready and able to pay well for what it wants. For superior service to society under competitive conditions, whether through invention or production or organization or distribution of useful articles, no reward is begrudged, particularly here in America."

"Adding to human comfort and human needs, these things make life finer and better. The world has shared, but it is in America that they have reached their highest development and utilization. The American spirit of useful enterprise, however, does not confine itself within our own borders. It permeates the entire world and renders great service to peoples other than our own."

"Let us pass over America's service to humanity in the war and consider what is being done now. Largely to rebuild the economic life of a world shattered by the war and its devastating after effects, America has, since the war, loaned other peoples over ten billion dollars. Last year alone a billion and a half in foreign financing was consummated in the United States. American financial genius has so far readjusted our banking machinery to meet enlarged international obligations that stupendous foreign loans, such as the $100,000,000 Dawes plan credit to Germany, are concluded and the books closed after being open to public subscription only a few minutes."

"With our new world viewpoints we in America have many great things yet to do. These things are typical of the broadminded world viewpoint of American finance. It shows the vision necessary to the men who guide our business affairs today. Certainly there is an inspiration in this and the great opportunities which await us."

Bankers and business men of the leading towns of Taylor county, Texas, employed a county agent last spring, and requested that he vigorously promote boys' and girls' club activities. As a result of his work over 300 club members were enrolled. Work is being concentrated this year on poultry culling and grain sorghum seed selection. This fall there will be exhibits and contests, for which the business men are contributing generous prizes.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But being at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally, and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of diseases.

BACK HURT BAD

Lady Had Severe Pains in Back and Got Very Weak.

"I think very highly of Cardui. I have had great benefit from it," says Mrs. Cora Nicholson, of Waco, Texas, S. C.

"I was in bed quite a while. It seemed like my strength would not come back, and I suffered with severe pains in my back whenever I would try to get up. Sometimes I would scream out, my back hurt so bad."

"My husband got me some Cardui and I took two bottles. Very shortly after I began to take it, I could notice I felt better. I began to get stronger. My appetite was improving and I could see that it was much better."

"After I had finished the second bottle I was able to be up and do all my own housework, so of course I think Cardui is fine. It is the best tonic for women that I know anything about, and I am glad to recommend it. Not long ago I told a lady friend of mine about it, and she did her as much good as it has done for me."

DAN MAKES A MISTAKE; TEMPLE PAPER DEFENDS ROAD WORK IN BELL COUNTY; TELLS DAN DENNISON GOOD ROAD MAN

In his severe criticism of F. L. Denison as a road builder, in his speech Friday night, Dan Moody does not agree with his home county newspapers and citizens. The Williamson County Sun, although an avowed champion of Mr. Moody for governor, and bitterly opposed to the present administration, recently published an article highly commending Mr. Denison for the excellent road work performed in Williamson county, in which it stated unqualifiedly that the road work being performed in that county by Mr. Denison was most highly satisfactory and beyond criticism.

And similar reports came from the other counties where Mr. Denison held road maintenance contracts under the state highway commission. So it is presumed that when Mr. Moody declared that he was a better lawyer than Denison was a road builder, he was just "making talk;" for, granting that Mr. Moody is a very excellent lawyer, it is also true that Mr. Denison holds a very enviable and unassailable reputation as a road builder.

And he is also teaching the road-building fraternity something in the way of economy, as figures in connection with the construction of the model, or demonstration highway between Temple and Belton will show. In the construction of this road, which was built as an experiment by the research department of the state highway commission, and on a "cost-plus basis," as charged by Mr. Moody (because it was something new, there being no precedent on which a builder could base an estimate) the cost of concrete piling was cut from a statewide average of $4.17 per foot, to the very low cost of $1.60 per foot. And other concrete work for which former highway commissions have paid an average of $21.60 per yard, was placed on this model highway, by Mr. Denison and Engineer Moore, working under the cost-plus plan, at $10.51 per yard, or a little less than half the price formerly paid for similar work.

It is not the purpose of the Telegram to defend the state highway commission in its selection of a location for the stretch of experimental road. Of course, as citizens of Bell county, we are glad that it was decided to locate it here. And since this is the geographical center of the state, and easily accessible to all citizens of the state interested in modern road construction, and since the research branch of the highway department was authorized or instructed to conduct the experiment somewhere in the state, why not here? Anyway as stated, we are proud that the road was built here instead of elsewhere, and since it is here we feel enough pride in it to defend its quality against attack. Granting Mr. Moody, and others, full right to criticize the commission for locating the road in Bell county, we must mildly protest against the charges that the road is not a good one. For we who have occasion to use it believe that it is a very excellent type of road, and well constructed. In fact, about the only local protest heard so far comes from the undertakers, hospitals and ambulance drivers, who declare that the new double track road is hurting their business. Despite the fact that the new double-track road carries an immense volume of traffic, mostly at high speed not an accident of any consequence has occurred on the new Temple-Belton pike since its completion, where formerly accidents of serious and even fatal consequence were frequent.

So, without any desire or intention of becoming involved in the bitter political controversies which are now agitating the state, we must defend our wonderful new highway, and commend Engineer S. B. Moore who designed it, and F. L. Denison who built it "on a cost-plus basis," but nevertheless at a substantial saving.

THORNDALE CANDIDATE FOR SUPERINTENDENT WITHDRAWS

Physical infirmities have prevented me from making an aggressive campaign for the Democratic nomination as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Schools. For the past three weeks I have been unable to leave my home due to an inflammation on my face, from which I have suffered very much. Thus far since formally announcing for this office I have either been busy with the closing exercises of my school or physically unable to actively look after my candidacy for the office of County Superintendent as I should be fair with my friends who have so kindly proffered their vote and support at the polls. And I feel that I must be fair to them and either make a thorough campaign and personally carry my case to the voters in all portions of the county, or else withdraw from the race and release them from their promise to support me in the primary. Finding that I have not the physical strength to make an aggressive campaign I take this means of notifying my friends of my decision to withdraw from the race.

I thank my friends for the kind expressions of good wishes and proffered support. I find it difficult to find words sufficiently meaningful to fully express my appreciation for the many kindnesses shown me since my announcement. You may never know what it really means to me, but I will never forget it and will hold it in memory to be recalled at will as a means of warming my heart and refreshing my soul with visions of the best friends a fellow ever had.

Thanking all and each again, I am,
MRS. IDA HENNINGTON

THE YOUTH PROBLEM

Some good thoughts on the so-called "youth problem" were presented to the National Education association a few days ago, by President W. M. Lewis of George Washington university. Dr. Lewis felt that the so-called "youth problem" is no more serious than ever before. The real problem is constituted by the tendency of adults to drift away from the older standards of conduct and loyalty.

If instead of wholly blaming the young people for many of their loose ideas, we would look around through society, we would find that the adults are doing about the same things, only they are a little more secretive about it.

When younger ones see the older ones disposed to tolerate wrong doing if it is not discovered, when they see them loose in their marriage relations, etc., it is not strange that the young crowd has strong tendencies in the same direction, only as is always the case, they are more frank and open about it.

These conditions are largely the result of the idea that the main object of personal endeavor should be the amassing of money. The previous generation said much about "plain living and high thinking," and people were taught that money was not the principal satisfaction. But now the emphasis is on money.

This gives people a selfish point of view, in which they are disposed to consider only their own desires, they feel disposed to ignore them.

There needs to be more emphasis on the idea that money success is not the principal form of satisfaction, and that those who have happy homes, love, refinement, cultivated tastes, health, capacity for out door enjoyment, have something far superior. When that ideal becomes more common, many standards of conduct will improve among both young and old.

THE CONSTRUCTIVE SPIRIT

Anyone who reads newspapers quite widely must be impressed with the frequency with which these editors complain about the use of the "hammer," as an expressive slang expression puts it. These newspaper men representing all these cities and towns, are constantly protesting against what they call "knocking."

The spirit of this age calls for constructive ideas. We are sick of the destructive spirit, which formerly was powerful in certain minds.

The old fashioned boy, instead of planting a garden himself, often took pleasure in going into his neighbor's land and trampling down his plants. We used to have July Fourth bonfires, in which the young fry seemed to take substantial pleasure in destroying valuable property. They were not merely content to burn useless rubbish, but they felt as if they had done more of a stunt if they destroyed something that someone valued.

So there are some people who have carried that spirit into their community relations. They could not seem to do anything very constructive themselves, or they did not want to try, but it seemed to give them satisfaction to speak slightly of what someone else tried to do.

Fortunately that spirit is disappearing, because people are sick of such old time pettishness. Where many of them used to rail at public movements, now in any progressive city they will applaud when anyone goes ahead and does useful things, and they are not troubled if he does gain some personal reputation out of it. As that spirit is the general rule in Cameron, the people who are willing to work for the public can feel that they obtain hearty applause for their labors, and the public is grateful for all the effort they devote to the community good.

AMERICAN EXPANSION

One hundred and fifty years ago on July Fourth of this year, when the American republic was born, and for quite a number of years following that date, the idea commonly prevailed that it was very doubtful if this country would ever extend into the wilderness west of the Allegheny mountains.

A great crises came in the history of this country, when the question arose whether we would buy the territory known as Louisiana, which included most of the lands between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains, except the state of Texas.

When this vast territory was bought in the administration of President Jef-erson, for $15,000,000, perhaps the most important step toward America's greatness was taken. That vast territory, including the rich states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, the two Dakotas, Montana and much of Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma, was obtained at a cost of two and a half cents an acre.

It had previously been doubted, even if the vast territory of the central and western part of the country were ever populated by the white race, whether it would be possible for one government to control so vast an extent. It was an act of superb faith when the old forefathers decided that they were going to have this vast territory and settle and colonize it.

If they had allowed this chance to obtain this great domain to go by, it might quite likely have grown up a foreign country, wars might have occurred between those people and the original United States, development would have been hindered, and our condition would be far inferior to what it is today. The people owe an incalculable debt to the far sight of the founders of the nation, for their action on this question.

WELL GOVERNED CITIES

One of the most important of the motives that induce people to locate in certain cities and towns, is the character of the government of such places. If a city is well governed, people say it is a good place for a home or a business, and they are more inclined to locate there.

So that when people neglect the interests of municipal government to settle themselves, they take a position which if generally followed, will operate against the growth of their city.

No municipality is likely to be well governed, unless the citizens generally take an interest in that government. A municipal government can not rise much above the level of public spirit. If public spirit is indifferent, the results accomplished by the public officials are likely to be the same.

INTEREST IN CITY AFFAIRS

Mr. Citizen, are you interested in the development of your own city, or don't you care?

If some important new improvement is projected, are you interested to hear the discussion that goes on about it, as reported in The Herald, or does such a subject strike you as dull and uninteresting?

If there is a public discussion about the administration of the schools, police work, care of the unfortunate, taxes, etc., are you interested? Or do you just pass it up, and turn over to something more exciting like sports, crime, scandals, etc?

The good citizen feels he is a partner in the business of running a city, and he does not propose to let the rest of the partners run the thing without at least listening to what they are saying, and occasionally taking a hand in the discussion himself.

W. B. Elliott, member of the Milam County Democratic Executive Committee, suggests that the Champion pass the word along to all candidates for office that two more reports are to be made by each. The first report was due to be made on or before June 29, Tuesday, and the second report of expenditures by each candidate is to be filed not later than twelve nor less than eight days before the first primary election. The first two reports should be filed with the County Clerk and the third is filed with the County Judge.—Thorndale Champion.

Specially Finished in rich leather with lacquered brass trimmings. This is a standard nationally advertised Ansco camera—retail value with case and film $18.50.

Any amateur photographer can enter this contest. Here is an opportunity for you to win one of the finest little cameras ever made by ANSCO. Don't miss it.

This contest is to encourage picture-taking and bring out photographic talent. We know that a great many of our customers have far more picture-taking ability than they realize. We handle Ansco Cameras and Ansco Speedex Film, and make a special feature of the quality of finishing done for our customers, and to demonstrate the value and spirit of our photographic service we are putting on this contest, which is open to all amateur photographers.

Remember, thousands of the best pictures published in magazines, newspapers, rotogravure supplements, and the like, are pictures that have been taken by amateurs, and we are conducting this contest to demonstrate that the amateur photographers in this community can take as good pictures as any—and better than most. No restrictions as to when pictures were or are taken—last year, last week, or any time this month. (Reprints from favorite films can be made by our finisher at any time.) Enter as many prints as you wish.

When the contest closes at the end of the month, the prints which in your estimation could not possibly win will be eliminated, and the rest will be submitted to a committee of experts which Ansco Photoproducts, Inc., has agreed to appoint, and these experts will judge the pictures according to (1) Clearness, (2) Artistic value, and (3) Originality of subject, awarding prize to the picture which on this basis is judged by them the best.

IF YOU THINK MOODY HAS A CHANCE NAME 25 COUNTIES HE WILL CARRY IN THE PRIMARY ELECTION JULY 24

I spent Sunday and Monday, June 20 and 21, answering the hundreds of letters which I am receiving from friends all over Texas, who are helping me to defend myself against the bunch of scandal-mongers who are trying to deceive the people with the cry of Fergusonism.

No candidate will ever hereafter raise that cry, they are sorry that they have raised it in this campaign.

I went with the governor to her date at Rockdale. The governor was treated to the most pleasant surprise. When the train pulled into Taylor, the home town of Dan Moody, to and behold there were 800 people gathered at the depot to shake hands and wish the governor Godspeed in this campaign. A beautiful young lady, whose name I did not get, presented the governor with a very large bouquet of flowers and in a short speech she said, "Governor, in behalf of your many friends in Williamson county I present you these flowers, given by your many friends and supporters in Dan Moody's home town."

It is now no secret that the Dan Moody people are much worried about Dan carrying either Williamson county or even his home town of Taylor. Moody suffers the opinion at home, as he does everywhere else, and that is that he is not big enough for the job.

At Rockdale the governor had an audience of at least 4,000 people. My old time friend, Henry Meyer, mayor of Rockdale, presided at the meeting and presented Hon. Randolph Tyson, who introduced the governor. There were many people from surrounding counties including Judge Goodman and Seth Burnett from Robertson county. They said that the governor would carry Robertson county by at least 300 majority. Jim Freeman at Wallace Chambers who always know Williamson county politics, say that the governor will carry Milam county by a clear majority over all candidates in the first primary. And she will, such the prediction. I know.

From Rockdale I went to Marquez, in Leon county. I was met at the depot late at night by Dr. Cam Carrington and twenty other friends. The Carringtons are old time settlers at Marquez and they enjoy the confidence and respect of everybody. They are some more of my dependable friends who have never failed.

We had easily 3,500 people at the date on Wednesday. Hon. S. T. Windham of Normangee, presided at the meeting. He introduced Mr. J. D. Reed, sheriff of Leon county, who in a few short words commended the Ferguson administration. Mr. Bob Nester was the next speaker and, as the boys say, he is a go-getter. He told the crowd that the young attorney general might be a good lawyer and that Ferguson might be a millionaire all right, but that "us" farmers want some more for the Fergusons because they "know our troubles and speak our language." The crowd roared with applause.

The governor will carry Leon county over all the candidates in the first primary.

Old man W. C. Waldron, now past 80 years of age, and an uncle by marriage of Lynch Davidson, came all the way from Oakwood, 50 miles, and assured me that he was for the governor. More than 400 farmers' wives shook hands with me at Marquez and told me they were for Ma.

The wives of the farmers are fully aroused in this campaign against the idea of denying a second term to a woman, just because she is a woman.

From Marquez I went to Jacksonville in Rusk county where I spoke to 4,000 people in the city park. I was introduced by Hon. D. L. Harry, an attorney of Jacksonville who declared strongly for the governor. Dr. Moody from Rusk was there and also Mrs. Capeland. They are the old standbys, and also J. D. Smith, and they say that the governor will lose the county of Jacksonville, but that Rusk county will go for the governor by at least 500 majority.

My old friend J. T. La Rue, and his wife, came over to Jacksonville and carried me to Athens where I spent the night in the La Rue home. They have seven children and all married except the young lady daughter, and with the inspiration of about eight grandchildren the La Rues are about as happy a family you ever see. They certainly make you feel at home. I spoke in Athens on Friday afternoon to easily 3,000 people from Henderson and adjoining counties. Dr. Moses was there from Anderson county and so was Sam Holland, also Uncle Barney B. Watson, whom I used to work for on the K. & G. N. railway thirty years ago, and also Adam Cane, Mr. DuPrey, Dakon Rose and some other friends came from Palestine. I also had a lot of friends from Holland, the wizard of Henderson county politics. Albert Humphries, candidate for state superintendent, made a short speech. He appears to be making many friends in the campaign.

Sam Holland and J. R. Craig of the Athens Review say that the governor will carry Henderson county over all opponents in the first primary. Uncle William Caldwell told me the same thing. So did John Easterwood. They know.

From Athens I went to Tyler where I spoke Friday night. Ten thousand people had assembled at the speaking hour, but the rain drove at least half the crowd home. But 5,000 stayed and the rain quit.

I was introduced by Col T. N. Jones, who told the crowd that if Moody was elected he not only would have to have a proxy for governor, but he would have to have a king's privy council and the king would be King Evans of the K. K. K.

The town of Tyler will probably go against the governor, but not near so strong as in the past. It was against Jim Hogg also. The country people of Smith county are for the governor and I predict the result in Smith county will be a dog fall and if the governor loses the county it will be by a decreased majority. This would not be but for the activities of the Ku Klux. In this connection, however, I want to say that in traveling around over the state I find that the Klan has busted up and scattered everywhere except in a few centers like Tyler. All the members of the Klan, who have quit the order, are for the governor. It is only the remaining members who are trying to make the Klan a political asset that are attempting to keep the organization alive.

From Tyler I went to Marshall and my old friend Behn Cook was on hand enjoying his 69th birthday. When Behn told me that the governor would win in Harrison county 400 votes I knew it was that way. He never fails to call the turn.

My old friend Dr. Blalock was in charge of the ceremonies and everything had been arranged for in good shape. Seven thousand people were in town from the country. A big rain came up just as the speaking hour arrived and the crowd had to scatter, with the exception of about 500 who jammed the court house where I spoke. Mayor Owens welcomed the governor to Marshall and Mrs. Turner introduced the governor. Miss Isabell presented the governor with flowers and I was introduced by Hon. Frank Davis.

The speaking was orderly except that one fellow who was drunk continued to holler for Moody. I pointed him out to the crowd and called attention to him being drunk, and he "tore" out of the building. The thing I don't understand is why so many drunk people are for Moody. And yet they may be thinking of Colquitt, Carter and Hobby, who are so prominently connected with the Moody campaign.

The governor's campaign is all that could be asked for. It is growing every day. Her organization is on the job in every county and we are getting favorable reports from every county in Texas. If anybody thinks that Moody has any chance, just get them to try to name twenty-five counties that Moody will carry and you will stump them right now. After you give him (which I do not concede) Jefferson, Harris, Travis, McLennan, Dallas, Wichita, Potter, Smith, Taylor and Grayson and possibly Williamson, there is not a baker's dozen left of the remaining 241 counties in Texas.

It is out now in Austin that Moody's assistant manager said that the Moody campaign liked to have gone to pieces last week. But whether it is so or not, he did have to change his campaign manager for the state and he has gotten rid of Pinkney and put Judge Wilcox in charge.

Read me next week. I think something is going to pop.

JAS. E. FERGUSON.

BOTH TEST WELLS EAST OF THORNDALE MAKING GOOD TIME

The test well being drilled near Gay Hill by Mr. Allen, financed by himself and associates is now, down to approximately 2230 feet, drilling the last few days in rock and very hard formation which makes progress slowly. This well is being watched with considerable interest by the people of Thorndale because of its nearness and its depth at this time.

The Texas Company test is now about 1500 feet deep, or was Tuesday, and the drill is still penetrating the earth at a good rate. Interest is also being manifested in this test and the progress of the drill is being watched with new interest from Palestine. Thorndale Champion.

ALL WORN OUT?

So Was Mr. Price Who Tells His Experience

Are you tired all the time; wornout night and day? Does your back ache as if it would break? Do you suffer dizziness, rheumatic twinges, headaches or distressing urinary disorders? You have good cause, then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Cameron case is convincing.

A. J. Price, farmer, R. F. D. No. 2, says: "My kidneys were in such poor shape, I had to get up as often as seven times during the night. This kidney disorder put my back in an aching condition and dull, dragging pains took me across my kidneys. I felt all tired out, but after using Doan's Pills from Thomas & Son's Drug Store, backache and kidney trouble was relieved."

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP BY THIS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7.

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 33 and Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of Texas so as to permit officers of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States to hold public office in Texas. Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 33 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury in favor of any person, for salary or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States; except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the Treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States."

Section 2. That Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"No person shall hold or exercise, at the same time, more than one civil office of emolument, except that of Justice of the Peace, County Commissioner, Notary Public and Postmaster, officer of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States, unless otherwise specially provided herein. Provided, that nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit an officer, or enlisted man of the National Guard, or an officer in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, or an enlisted man in the Organized Reserves of the United States from holding in conjunction with such office any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States."

Section 3. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday in November, A. D., 1926, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the Constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Organized Reserves of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States;" and:

"Against the Constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States and enlisted men of the United States Reserves of the United States to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this state or the United States."

Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary Proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The expense of publication and election for such amendment shall be paid out of proper appropriation made by law.

Approved, March 16, 1925.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

A resolution proposing an amendment to Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by changing Section 3, eliminating the provision authorizing the Legislature to create special districts and making an appropriation therefor. Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution be so changed as to read as follows: (creating new section.)

"Section 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State Occupation taxes and poll tax of one dollar on every inhabitant of the State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents in the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of special districts by general laws; and all such school districts may embrace parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and for the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax not to exceed in any 1 year one ($1.00) dollar on the hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent or common school districts created by general or special law."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1926, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas eliminating the provision which authorizes the Legislature to create special school districts," and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas eliminating the provision which authorizes the Legislature to create special school districts."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. That the sum of two ($2,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Approved, April 4, 1925.
